This survey was made with a Hewlett-Packard Electronic Total Station, Model No. 3820A, Serial No. 1650A00201, which utilizes electronic horizontal and vertical circles that display measured horizontal and zenith angles directly in degrees, minutes, and seconds. All lines of this survey were measured with this instrument which uses a laser beam to measure the slope dist. from the instrument toward a reflector located at the point to be measured. The slope dist. is reduced to hor. dist. within the instrument by an electronic computing device and displays the hor. dist. directly to the nearest one thousandth of a ft. The instrument was tested and calibrated on a base line of known length before and after this survey was completed and found to be in good adjustment during the time that this survey was executed.

Bearings referred to in this record were determined by the average of two hor. angle measurements, one with the telescope in the dir. position, and one with the telescope in the rev. position. These angles were referred to the meridian by the following observations:

December 12, 1983 at the Cor. No. 3 of the There No. 1 lode at latitude  $40^{\circ}47'00.5''$  N., and longitude  $116^{\circ}13'05.7''$  W., elevation approximately 5700 feet above sea level, barometric pressure of 24.34 ins. of mercury, and temperature  $42^{\circ}$  F., make a series of eight observations on the sun for azimuth at approximately equal time intervals, four each with the telescope in the dir. position and rev. position, observing the horizontal angle right from a pt. on line 3-4 of the There No. 1 lode, and the zenith angle to the center of the sun.

Mean time of observation
(120th meridian (P.S.T.)) = 10:18:43 A.M.
Declination of the sun at mean time of observation =  $23^{\circ}04'37.3''$  S.
Mean observed zenith angle
to the sun's center =  $66^{\circ}27'58''$
Mean horizontal angle right from a pt. on line 3-4 of the There No. 1 lode
to the sun's center =  $340^{\circ}06'05''$
True bearing to a pt. on line 3-4 of the
There No. 1 lode = S.  $0^{\circ}05'55''$  E.

All lines and connections of this survey were run by direct methods except as noted.

The magnetic declination observed at each cor. gave a uniform value of  $17^{\circ}30'$  E.
