for the year ending August 31, 2000 and that such expenditures were made by, for the expense of Ashington Mining Corporation lessee, for the account of itself as lessee for the purpose of holding said claims. This work consisted of minor improvements to existing access roads consisting largely of removing rocks from the dirt roads on both claim groups and dig in small washes. The geophysical data obtained from prior lessees was also reviewed to find favorable drill site locations for reaching bedrock. This work was intermittently accomplished between October 1, 1999 and August 31, 2000 by Peter Laczay, geologist. Assaying of reconnaissance samples was conducted by SVL-Analytica, Box 929, Kellogg, ID.
